

Basic Training Survey

If you could choose anywhere in the world as your duty station, where and why?

If you could have any unconventional super power (such as the power to turn into a hamster- only a hamster) what would it be?

Have you noticed any soldiers that could use some extra mail? If so, what are their names?

What do your barracks look like?

Do you sleep in a bunk bed or a single?

How many people share your room?

How many people do you share a bathroom with?

About how many people eat at the same time in the same place as you?

How long does it take you to get through the line, get your food and get to a place you can eat it?

How long do you have to eat?

What's your best battle buddy's name?

Any messages for anyone at home?

Would you like me to post anything on Facebook for you?

DEDICATION
Because he would do the same for you.
